Fasting – A Way to Slow Down

Rev. Anya Sammler-Michael

“When the stomach is full, it is easy to talk of fasting” – St.

Jerome

We Unitarian Universalist like to work. Many of us are “do-ers.” We put our values in action, we live our faith, our deeds, and our creeds. What happens when we pause and give a whole day to emptiness?

That is some of what UU Fast day is all about. And fasting is a part of our Unitarian and Universalist heritage. Begun by the Puritans, Fast Day became a state sponsored holiday in the 17th century and remained as much in New England throughout the 19th century.

Whereas the counterpoint holiday, Thanksgiving, is for praising the harvest and recognizing all that is good in the world, Fast Day is for slowing your life and pausing long enough to recognize what is amiss, what is problematic, what hurts.

In July of 2006 Rev. Fred Small of the First Church Unitarian in Littleton Mass., and others in Littleton fasted for three days to draw attention to global warming. Then in the Fall of 2006 the Rev. David Blanchard of the First Unitarian Universalist Society of Syracuse, New York, fasted for 30 days as a way of expressing opposition to the war in Iraq. Many other Unitarian Universalists fast during Ramadan to show support for our Muslim brothers and sisters. And many in this

President's Message

It is Spring! Bonnie Lepoff

How could I write about anything else? Daffodils and crocuses are sprouting from the ground. Red buds are budding and red breasted robins are making appearances in my back yard. And it is possible to leave the house without a coat! I just love it! There is new energy everywhere you look.

Especially there is new energy at UUS. Our larger sanctuary with new paint and carpet and our new separate hospitality area are really nice. The space is so inviting, people are hanging around after services much longer. Rev Anya commented in amazement one Sunday last month that she was not the last person to be leaving!

Our Arts and Aesthetics group is also energized as they meet to discuss where to hang art work and how to make the best use of our space. (Including making sure we have a nice area for Nancy's retail corner.) You will see changes as we use our space and decide how we fit.

The following changes are coming soon. Our very nice coffee bar will be installed in our hospitality area; it will have cabinets underneath so napkins, sugar, and coffee cups won't have to be carried back to the kitchen each Sunday. Art work will be back on our sanctuary walls and children's art will be displayed in the hallway by the new nursery and in the RE area. And of course our new chairs! I will keep you posted on the status of their delivery.

Let me or Rev Anya know if you like what you see or if you have an idea for

April Theme: Salvation

Writer Hermann Hesse remarks: “You know quite well, deep within you, that there is only a single magic, a single power, a single salvation...and that is called loving.” Salvation is a verb rather than a noun. It is not something we get, but something we do, when we offer, receive, uphold, revere, and pronounce love.

April 4th – “Hallelujah” - an Easter Service for rejoicing. Let's find reason to celebrate the many messages of liberation, hope, and salvation found in the Easter vision. Our service will be led by Rev. Anya Sammler-Michael. We will hear music from the Messiah by the UUS Choir led by Kris Adams and accompanied by a special guest concert pianist! An inquirer's class will follow our service.

April 11th – “Salvation”: Is it hiding under a bush? Is it deep within your mind? Is it gliding on an arc out in the middle of an endless sea? Is it something we come to know after we give our last breaths on earth? Where is salvation and is it something we wish to know ourselves? Rev. Anya Sammler-Michael shares our service and Andy Johnston, Executive director of Loudoun Cares and Appalachian Singer brings his music.

SPECIAL SERVICE – Thursday April 15th – UU Fast Day Break-Fast Worship at 6PM with a Soup-Salad-Bread Potluck to Follow. UU Fast Day is A holiday with historical roots and modern significance. Historically, Fast Days are times to consider the struggles in your own life as well as the struggles that wrap about our globe. (More information in Rev. Anya's Article:

congregation have fasted for one day in April, both last year and the year before.

We are building Fast Day into our traditional pattern of holidays and holy days at UUS. Some say that fasting brings them closer to God or what is of ultimate significance in their lives, others say that fasting helps them understand the plight of those who go without, and still others say that fasting helps them slow down long enough to feel the weight of this world, and the depth of their being.

We will fast again this year on Thursday April 15th. Some will choose to fast completely. Some will stay hydrated with water or tea. Some (especially children) will eat a modest amount of plain foods. Fasting can come in many forms. What matters is that you choose a form that fits your bodily needs while drawing you into a way of being that feels somewhat foreign.

We will gather at UUSterling to break our fast at 6PM for worship, followed by a Soup-Salad-Bread potluck, and a collection for Loudoun Interfaith Relief. All are encouraged to bring with them cans or cupboard items in the quantity that they would have eaten, had they not fasted.

All are welcome from within our congregation and beyond. If you have family members or friends who appreciate the spiritual exercise of fasting, please invite them to participate. Fasting does not belong to us; it is a means to connect more deeply with our world.

Please feel welcome to ask me any questions, or to RSVP.

Yours in Faith Rev. Anya Sammler-Michael (minister@uusterling.org)

Lifespan Faith Development

Linda Weaver

At the beginning of this year UUS broadened its vision and formed a Lifespan Faith Development Council, embracing and expanding on the work of the Religious Exploration Committee. In doing this, UUS is building on the current Unitarian Universalist vision of creating multigenerational communities that nurture the faith development of all ages and that emphasizes the history, traditions and beliefs that make our Unitarian Universalist communities and faith unique.

In March the UUS Lifespan Faith Development Council discussed faith development and concluded that it touches and is touched by every aspect of the congregation and the world. Faith development happens through classes, mentorships, testimonials, conversation and worship. It happens in the way the church is governed and it happens in the actions and the language that is modeled whenever we gather. It also happens at home, in the car and at events outside of UUS. In all of these settings anyone can influence another person's faith development. Even the youngest can teach the oldest or most educated.

These are realizations being made throughout the Unitarian Universalist denomination. We are discovering that our churches can be powerful entities in the lives of individuals, families and communities, by providing a place where all ages can learn together and from each other. Church is a place where we can learn, through our interactions with others, how to live lives of love, meaning, and joy.

Chance interactions and social events are important to faith development. However, we also need activities that are consciously planned to meet specific developmental needs and that encourage reflection on the experiences of life. This is where Religious Exploration or Lifespan Faith Development programs come in. They are the means by which we make sure that faith development is nurtured, that significant experiences are provided at each stage of life and that the many messages that bombard us are explored. It is also an important means of making sure everyone has a place s/he fits in at UUS and that connections are formed between individuals and within small groups.

To find out about the children's RE program or to let us know how we can serve your family contact Linda Weaver at re-director@uusterling.org or 703-406-3068. Information is also available on the UUS website at www.uusterling.org or in brochures near the door at UUS.

Children's RE Program Planning

Linda Weaver

Planning for next year's children's Religious Exploration program will begin soon. Look for meeting announcements and make a point to attend at least the first meeting so you can take part in exploring the many exciting possibilities and help ensure the program meets the needs of all children and families as well as possible.

Wine Country Holiday

Bonnie Lepoff

“Napa was as delightful as I had expected. What was equally important and somewhat unexpected was the profound connections I felt with my hosts and hostesses.”

Carol Lim, Los Angeles

The UU's of Napa, California proudly announce a new season of our Wine Country Excursions. Again, we offer a variety of options for an inside look at one of America's most beautiful areas, internationally known for fine wines, gourmet dining and spectacular vistas.

There much to see and do in the Napa and Sonoma Valleys: e.g. wine tasting at renowned and boutique wineries; visits to art galleries and museums; exploring the natural beauty of our hills and valleys on miles of hiking and bike trails or by car on our highways and back country roads.

We offer two choices: Both start with comfortable lodging in members' homes with full breakfast (up to 3 nights). You can choose a 2-day “Wine Country Excursion,” a guided, personalized tour conducted by one of our members--some with wine industry experience--or lodging and self-guided touring. If desired, we provide guidance, maps, etc.

The program runs from April through October. Our fees are below market rate for similar services and all proceeds go to our small fellowship. For complete details contact: Tom Wilson (707-254-7443) or 2wilsons1dog@comcast.net

We look forward to sharing our lovely “home” with you!

Scott Sammler-Michael, Goobie the cat and I are moving! We have purchased a home in historic Fairfax City. Please know that while my address will be in Fairfax my professional focus will remain in Loudoun County, and more specifically in Sterling as I am dedicated to serving UUS as we become a force for justice, hope, and faith in Loudoun County. The location in Fairfax City is between Scott's and my respective congregations. It also provides easy access to the District and our Beltway neighbor congregations – places my work, on an interfaith and collegial basis, calls me to with frequency.

We intend to move sometime in early May. I will keep you posted. There may be a moving party!

Committee Liaison Reports:

Lindy reported that she received letters and pictures from our partner church in Kut, India. We have a new contact person in Kut whose English is better; this should improve communication. Lindy will distribute letters from the children to their pen pals on Sunday.

Rev. Anya requested that the Board review our mission and vision statements from the Strategic Plan and keep them in mind during the stewardship drive.

New Space:

- Dave requested inputs for the final punch list of items to be completed for his meeting with the landlord. He will ask for representatives from Arts/Aesthetics, Lifespan, and Worship Associates to participate in a walk around on Sunday for the punch list.
- Dave reporting that we have a cabinet and counter coming. We confirmed that we need to remove the lock on the nursery door.
- Rev. Anya started a list of housekeeping tasks to be completed with places for volunteers to sign up.

- We discussed using the nook at the end of the hall for a social action area where we will put recycling bins and food collection bin and notices to Put Your Values in Action.
- We need extra long tablecloths for the Fellowship Area so we can put bins for storage under the tables.
- The Youth Room space is too small. Rev. Anya and Linda Weaver will look into whether youth can share the old nursery with the middle school kids. Joan will check the subtenant lease to see if restricting access to that room is possible.
- Bonnie is buying dishes and we are soliciting donations of flatware.
- Phaedra will contact the cleaners about schedule and larger space.
- The hearing assistance device test was successful. Bonnie would like to find someone to order a similar system for us. EB Kirkbride has offered to donate funds for this purchase.

Chalice Lighter Grant: We have submitted an application for $20,000.

Stewardship: The dinners start March 13. Our goal is to have everyone signed up by March 7.
